

TOOLITECH INC. adds business expert to newly formed Business Advisory Committee

March 31, 2021

Vancouver, B.C. – March 31, 2021 – TooliTech Inc. (“TooliTech” or the “Company”) is pleased to announce the appointment of Cameron MacCarthy, BA, LL.B., to its Business Advisory Committee (“Committee”). The Committee also includes John R. Tapping, CEO and Chairman of the Board, Renée Hetherington, CFO and Director and marketing advisor, Mallin Jiang, CMO and Director.

Mr. MacCarthy will assist the Committee in evaluating strategic business investments and decisions.

“We are extremely pleased to welcome Cameron to our business advisory team,” said John Tapping, TooliTech’s Executive Chair. “Cameron has significant experience helping Canadian businesses find opportunities and succeed. He brings a wealth of critical wisdom to TooliTech’s Committee and will help us navigate day-to-day challenges, set strategy, and drive value creation.”

About Cameron MacCarthy, Partner Nerland Lindsey LLP

Cameron’s practice focuses on all aspects of business law, with particular emphasis on mergers and acquisitions, divestitures, corporate reorganizations and corporate finance. He also has extensive experience in the negotiation of shareholder agreements, investor rights agreements, advising on corporate governance matters, and assisting clients with other complex commercial arrangements. He works closely with the firm’s tax and estate planning group, focusing primarily on corporate structuring, restructuring and private financing transactions.

About TooliTech Inc.

TooliTech Inc is a technology vanguard specializing in innovative, sustainable industrial-scale cryptocurrency mining. The strategy of our private, Canadian-based company is to establish a world-class technology hub, initially centred around cryptocurrency mining followed by a data centre capable of advanced data-analytics and AI processing.

Our objective is to transition from an early-stage development company to a public company listed on a major western stock exchange.

On behalf of the Board of Directors,
John R. Tapping
CEO and Chairman of the Board
TooliTech Inc.
